FROM HAVANA.

The United States Mail steamship Quaker City, R. W. Shufeldt, commander, arrived off the Bar on Wednesday night from Havana, Cuba, having left there last Saturday, 15th inst., at 12 o'clo k noon.

Since leaving, the Quaker City has encountered severe weather, with a very heavy gale from Cape Hatterns to Sandy Hook from the north. Arrived off the Highland Lights at 11 p. m. of the 19th, but, in consequence of a heavy rain and fog, was detained out-

The health of Havana was good and the weather

On the 13th inst., the Spanish fieet stationed at the port of Havana, consisting of seven steamers and frigates, steamed out of the port, under command of the Admiral, for a short trip to sea, to exercise the crew. On the day of sailing of the Quaker City, they had not returned, a rumor being in circulation of their having sailed for Vera Cruz, Mexico.

Business of all kinds in Havana since last reports re mains without improvement. Several meetings had been held by the prominent merchants, by order of the Captain-General, to devise a method to improve comme reial affairs, and give greater unanimity.

The Government, to give a greater relief to the busi ness community, had authorized the Spanish Bank to issue four millions of dollars in paper (two millions to be jut into immediate circulation, the balance if requisite), bearing six per cent interest per annum. The latter amount had been taken at once.

Amusements did not appear to be affected by the unfavorable state of trade, there being Italian and Spanish opers at the Tacon Theatre every night-the Sisters Natalie achieving a success in "Norma." Charipi's Circus was well filled each night. Nixon, with his Royal Circus, arrived on the 13th, from New-Orleans, and would open at the Villanuova Theatre on the night of the 15th.

SECESSION. THE SLAVE TRADE

From Our Own Correspondent. HAVANA Dec 15 1860

The hot headed action of the South still continues to injure our business relations with the United States. and there is but one sentiment in relation to the agita tion-that of disgust and condemnation. However, the great republic of South Carolina, with her fleets covering the seas and her armies adorning the frontiers, will erjoy a national prestige which will be felt throughout the civilized world. The panic here, which was disturbing our financial condition, has been much ameliorated by concert of action on the part of our banks and capitalists. The Spanish Bank has issued its bonds for $2,000,000 bearing 7 & cent interest, which have been immediately taken up. The discounts have been proportionately increased, so that the circulating medium for the small traders has become ample. The consequences upon the old stock of sugars and the coming crop will be disas trous unless harmony is restored in the Union.

In the report of a correspondent of The New-Orleans Crescent, in relation to a cargo of negroes landed in Cuba, the writer makes a grave error in the initial letter of the merchant, who was consignee of the cargo in the country, and resides in Havana, putting "M. instead of L. socially far above the reach of any such imputation. In the last few weeks several cargoes have been landed upon various points of the island, but not covering the number I see recently reported. The data of the several transactions have been imperfectly rendered, but I suppose about 1,700 Cozul negroes have been landed and disposed of upon estates; at least, the espacity of the vessels, said to have had cargoes on board, would not admit of a larger number, and the same corresponds with other information which I have, though it is not definite as to the names of

THE SUPERVISORS COMMITTEE ON HARLEM

THE SUPERVISORS COMMITTEE ON HARLEM BRIDGE.

A meeting of the Special Committee appointed by the Supervisors to inquire into the contract made by the Mayor and the Harlem Bridge Commissioners, to rebuild the bridge at the termination of Third avenue, was held vesterday afternoon. There were present Messis. Blunt, Purdy, Ely and Davis. To more clearly show the objects of the meeting, a brief statement of affairs relative to the bridge will be necessary. For many years the Harlem bridge was a toll-bridge and private property. In 1857 the Legislature passed an act making it a free bridge, the same to be kept in repair by the Counties of New-York and Westchester, respectfully, as far as their jurisdiction extended.

The act also set forth that these two counties should build a bridge, and provided that the Mayor and the Street Commissioner of New-York, and the County Judge and Chairman of the Board of Supervisors of Westchester County, should constitute the Commissioners to take charge of the work. It may be re-cioners to take charge of the work. It may be re-marked that, as the jurisdiction of New-York is claimed to extend to low-water mark on the Westchester side to extend to low water mark on the Westchester side of the river, by this act nearly the entire coet of the bridge would fall on this city. For the building of this bridge the last Legislature made an appropriation of $25,600, and a contract for over $200,000 has been secretly made by the Commissioners.

Mr. McLeod Murphy, the principal complainant against the contract, sent in a communication setting forth that the plan of the bridge was impracticable and coulty.

His Honor the Mayon was present at the request of the Committee, and stated that three contracts had been made for building the bridge. He knew very little in regard to the construction of bridges, and for in formation on that point would refer the Committee to Mr. McAlpin, the engineer of the work in question. The contracts had been made for building different parts of the tridge. Estimates received by the Commissioners had in no case fallen short of $200,000. He was willing to submit any information that the Com-was willing to submit any information that the Committee might require.

In regard to the appropriation of $25,000, Mr.
BILERT, Chairman of the Committee, contended that it was inserted in the tax levy for the Board of Supervisors to apply to the building of a county bridge.

The Mayon held that the Commissioners had a right to use the $25,000, as far as it would ge.

Mr. Purpy believed that the Legislature had no power to grant authority to any parties to build a bridge obstructing navigation.

The question in regard to the auditing of bills for the payment of expenses incurred by the Board of Commissioners coming up, Mr. Burnt said that he was greatly surprised when he learned the day previous that warrants were being drawn on the $25,000. Some $5,000 or $7,000 had been already paid out. All the bills of the Commissioners should be audited by the Board of Supervisors before payment.

Mr. Purpy believed that the Board of Supervisors had no control over the matter, and consequently it was not their heaves as the same than their heaves as the same than the sam building the bridge, but had control of the auditing the bills for the payment of the same. He was of opinion that the $25,000 was appropriated and levied before the Board of Commissioners had complied with the law in regard to filing their certificate in the County Clerk's-office, and making their application to the Board of Supervisors for an appropriation.

The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved. That the Chairman of this Committee apply to the legal advisor of the Board of Supervisors to ascertain, first, if the Commissioners authorized to build the Harlem Bridge may use any portion of the $25,000 appropriated before they made their application to the Board of Supervisors for an appropriation, and second, have the Board of Supervisors the authority to audit bills contract of for by the Harlem Bridge Commissioners and have the Board of Supervisors the power of reducing the bills as they have in other County charges?

Dr. Chapin's). The Fraternity will partake of its annual dinner on Friday evening.

One hundred buildings, including every church, schoolhone, store and warehouse (with a single exception.) with their goods of all kinds, were totally destroyed. The Flouring Mills, Saw Mills, and Planing Mills were swept to the ground." Not a mechanic's shop of any description was left standing. Barns and outhouses were destroyed, horses and cattle were killed, and the entire personal property of most of the inhabitants was swept away, amounting in the aggregate to a loss of over $150,000. Such an immense lose to fall upon a community numbering only 800 or 900 souls, leaves the great majority in a state of utter destitution. Such buildings as were left standing have been partially repaired, and into them the people are now crowded, with from two to three families in a single house, while others are living in board shantics.

COURT MARTIAL OF COL. CORCORAN,-Yesterday afternoon, in accordance with previous notice, the trial, by Court Martial, of Col. Michael Corcoran of the 69th Regiment, for disobedience of orders in refusing to order out his regiment on the occasion of the visit of the Prince of Wales to this city, was commenced at the Division Armory, corner of White and Elm streets. The following officers constituted the Court: Brigadier-Gen. Sticer, Col. S. B. Postley of the 3d Regiment, and Col. Joseph C. Pinckney of the 6th Regiment. At 44 o'clock D. Mead, Division Judge Advocate, called the Court to order by reading the charge against Col. Corcoran, preferred by Geo. W. Morell, Division Engineer and Acting Division Inspector, and proceeded to qualify the members of the Court, severally, by oath.

The Judge Advocate again read the charge, citing Col Corcoran before the Court, who pleaded not guilty. The Defendant then read and filed a bar in like to the charge, that the order was void for indefiniteness, the specifications not being sufficiently specific.

The Court ordered the room to be cleared to give an opportunity for consultation with the Judge Advocate, Col. Mend.

ties to the State or Republic, in view of the preservation of civil liberty.

Col. Corcorna then offered to submit proof that his regiment had been out on the two regular annual Division parades required by law.

The Court ruled to receive proof, whereupon Brigadier-Major Robert Taylor was sworn, and testified that the First Division had made two parades in 1860, one on the occasion of the Japanese Reception, and the other on the Fourth of July; both these parades were held subject to the order of Major-Gen. Sandford; and the other on the Fourth of July; both these parades were held subject to the order of Major-Gen. Sandford; I served those orders upon Col. Gercoran; the 63th Regiment paraded in obedience to said orders; to the best of my knowledge, the 12th Regiment acted as a guard of honor to the Prince of Wales on the day of his reception, subject to order.

To the Judge Advocate—I cannot say with positive certainty that the 12th Regiment took his regular place in the line of parade, and not as a guard of honor.

The Court then adjourned till Thursday, the 3d day of January, 18c1, at 4 o'clock, p. m., when the Judge Advocate will respond to the argument of the secured.

For the Government, it was contended that this notice was only made for the purpose of delay. This action was brought to recover $3,200 damages for injuries alleged to lawe been sustained by Mrs. Raynor on the 25th of November 1859, through the negligence of the defendant.
It represes from the plaintiffs own testimony, that on the day in and, the street being slippery with med, fell on the track of the defendant, between whose approaching or and the oundins was a light wagon which hid her from the driver of the car. The wagon turned to the left and drove rapidly away, set before the body of the plaintiff, the whole, however, not touching her.

At the close of the plaintiff weridence, the defendant moved to dismiss the complaint, on the ground that no negligence of defendant had been shown. The motion was defined. At the close of the defendant's evidence the defendant received the motion on the same ground when a non-sult was ordered with $50 sllowance. Spooner and Taber for plaintiff, Grenville 2. Jeoks for

THE SECESSION MOVEMENT.

THE CLOUDS BREAKING.

From Our Special Correspon WASHINGTON, Dec. 19, 1860.

The apprehension of anything like civil wer dwindles, the more closely we contemplate the subject and approach the time it is supposed it may begin. The Federal Government and the loval States will not commence it, and the revelutionists will not dare to bring it on. The thought is preposterous that the Slave States either in whole or in part, will declare war upon the National Government and the Free States The idea of doing it is madness itself. The pulses of the great national heart are al

vigor and glow of the national health. The gennine Union and patriotic sentiment of the country is audible in the atmosphere of the capital The murmurs are low, but evidently rising and deepening. A subterraneau rumble is heard, denoting the coming earthquake of popular indignation upon the treason, in people of high and low degree, which meditates the destruction of this Government. If there is any virtue in signs and magnetisms, in respect of the set of popular currents, and the ideas that are fermenting in the minds of men, then is it certain that we are upon the eve of one of the most tremendous uprisings of public sentiment in behalf of the Union. and the Constitution, and the Government, as it is, that was ever witnessed on this continent. It looks here as though the country will, within a brief period, be in a flame of patriotic ardor that will at once astound and confound the plotters of treason. The kindling streaks are already flashing toward this great political conter from every quarter, and jets of sacred fire are seen bursting through the agitated surface of uffairs, like struggling flames issuing through the trembling and undulating surface of the broad crater of a huge volcano, preparatory to its finel eruption. We see the molten lava beneath, we hear the crackling fires, we feel the heaving beneath our feet, and we know the explosion med come. There is not a patriotic man in Waskington, of whatever party-there is not a revolutionist of keen instincts, that has not a presentiment of the coming conflagration. Not the conflagration of the country and its interests, but the conflagration of those who would destroy the country and its interests. It is often said we need one great leading mind for the crisis. It is not true.

It needs nothing but a band of men of true hearts and determined purposes to take the country through its perils unscathed, and these, thank God, we have got. The men to lead the country now are its Patriots, and Patriots of every party, and these we have got. The dovelorments of the last few days show it plainly. The veteran hero of Lundy's Lane, and Chippewa, and Mexico, has come to Washington full of the vigor and the health and the fire of be best days. His position is unequivocal and commanding. He has besought the President to change his policy, and succor the menaced forts in Charleston Harbor. He holds to preserving the Union, and maintaining the stability of the Government, with all a great patriot's warmth, whose life has been spent in the service of his country.

And not only General Scott, but General Comthe ancient war-horse of the Northern Demosracy, has taken a new lease of life, and seized the occasion to signalize the close of a long onreer of public service, in a manner which will embalm him forever in the annals of a grateful people. He, too, has earnestly sought to win the President from his suicidal course, and failing to do it, has left his Cabinet, and come over to the side of the country and the people. Me is daily receiving the congratulations and unbought homage of crowds of our most distinguished men of all parties, for his patriotic stand against all the souvenirs and blandishments and influences of dynastic rule. He has broken boldly away from insidious withes and traitorous to hold the President in a fatal embrace. He is preparing an address to his countrymen; and if his sentiments and purposes are not totally misconceived, he will, after it shall have been issued. and when he shall journey to his ancient home in the North-West, be met by an ovation of popular admiration such as has rarely or never fallen to the lot of an American statesman.

In view of the luminous future that seem about bursting upon us, we would kindly warm the trembling worshipers of the modern Dages n the North, who seem just now to prostrate and mortify themselves with more than ordinary assiduity, that their aforesaid god, to all humas appearances, is about falling with his face to the earth. Wherefore, too, let the righteous take telegraph has defamed her-she is not wholly given up to cotton. The great Union-saving meeting of Thursday last was cunningly contrived to favor personal ends, and as a demosstration of honest public sentiment here, was a trick, a sham, a bald and impudent imposture. We know, and feel, and see it to be such, and hence are anxious that you too, and all the world of honest men who look up to you for the truth, should realize the fact as fully as ourselves. It was not so much a dry goods meeting as were the gatherings had a year ago. The object was to make Mr. Theodore Cuyler the next Mayor of Philadelphia, the gradation being from Henry the Fusionist to Cuyler the Democrat. Just look at the facts and understand them. The movement for this meeting began in Council, where the Republicans at once detected the cat in the meal, but it was driven through with Carolinian precipitancy. The Committee to concect resolutions sat in secret. Not a reporter was admitted, the whole press was excluded, the entire public were kept in the dark, though it was that very public sentiment that was to be uttered. The names of Republicase were used as Vice-Presidents under pastrances which were so grossly falsified that all such have publicly repudiated the chest. Republicans of position refused to appear as speakers, and but a single representative man of that party showed himself on the platform, or participated in the proceedings. This was John B. Myers, our the proceedings. This was John B. Myers, our leading nuctioneer, who was chosen to read the resolutions because his voice is like a lions. How he fell into the snare he may be able to explain. Perhaps he walked into it deliberately. Then look at these resolutions. They say, touching the Fugitive Slave law, that we "submit cheerfully to its faithful enforcement; and that we point with pride and autosization to the recent conviction and panishment, in this City of Philadelphia, of those whe had broken its provisions by aiding in the case.
